- complete and submit a form electronically or by mail
- you deal with us over the telephone or counter
- you register for My QBCC
- email us
- provide us with feedback

ask us to contact you, and you consent to us collecting, storing, using, maintaining and disclosing your personal information.

Information we may request

We may ask you to provide personal information if you submit feedback to QBCC or lodge a form, electronically or otherwise.

We will only do this:

- to meet your needs (e.g. answer a question)
- to meet our needs (e.g. demographic analysis, updating our records)
- if required by law.

'Personal information' includes your name, address, phone number, email address, age, gender, your employer.

Use of personal information

Depending upon the type of enquiry, application or form you have submitted. If you're a QBCC licensee, your personal details may be used to send you important updates regarding new legislation or amendments, changes to policies and other such information related or connected to your licence.

Marketing

We will also send (whether by phone, email, SMS, post or facsimile), updates to keep you abreast of industry news, opportunities to submit surveys or feedback on discussion papers, educational information and professional development opportunities including seminars and events. We may also send you information on behalf of Queensland Government departments including Department of Housing and Public Works.

You may opt out at any time if you no longer wish to receive specific types, or all, marketing information. You can make this request by emailing digitalsupport@qbcc.qld.gov.au, or by "unsubscribe" from the email or other marketing messages you no longer wish to receive.

Disclosure of personal information

If you have submitted an application or complaint, we may provide all or some of this information (if applicable) to your:

- contractor/client
- members of our panel of technical consultants (includes licensed contractors, registered engineers, and industry specialists)
- rectifying builders
- external legal consultants
- external financial consultants
- reinsurers/actuaries.

We may also disclose your personal information to third parties, including advisors and consultants and with third party service providers we use in connection with conducting our business and always subject to confidentiality provisions we deem appropriate.

Some of the third parties to whom we disclose your personal information may be located outside Australia. For example, we may disclose your personal information to external facilities in the course of data processing services from third parties.

The countries in which these third parties are located will depend on the circumstances. However, in the course of our ordinary business operations we commonly disclose personal information to third parties located in the United States of America.

We will not give your personal information to third parties without your consent, unless as set out above or required by law.

Access to personal information

If you would like to access any of your personal information that is held by QBCC you can make an Information Privacy application.

Amending your personal information

You may apply to amend documents containing your personal information held by QBCC, where you believe relevant information is inaccurate, misleading, out of date or incomplete.

Making a privacy complaint
