

ARE YOU READY TO LAUNCH YOUR CAREER AND MAKE AN IMPACT ON THE WORLD AROUND YOU?

DISCOVER A REWARDING CAREER IN THE BUILDING AND CONSTRUCTION INDUSTRY

There is a strong demand for skilled workers in the construction industry, providing a range of professional opportunities, job security, competitive salaries and clear pathways for career progression.

Where do I start?

Before you officially get on the tools you need to be suitably trained and qualified. There are several registered training courses and resources available.

The Department of Trade, Employment and Training delivers the Gateway to Industry Schools program in partnership with Construction Skills Queensland (CSQ) for participating schools in Queensland.

If your school does not participate in the program, information can be found on the Queensland Government's web page for apprenticeships and traineeships.

There are a variety of registered training courses, career pathways, advice and additional support resources to help educate and prepare the next generation of skilled building and construction industry professionals like you.

What comes next?

As an apprentice or newly qualified professional, you'll then need to obtain the correct licence or licences to operate in the Queensland building and construction industry, and that's where we come in.

The Queensland Building and Construction Commission (QBCC) is the state regulator and part of our role includes managing over 80 available licences for individuals and companies who work in the industry. Although this is still a little further away, you can find out more about the QBCC and the importance of obtaining the right licence (or licences) on our website.

Gateway to Industry
Schools program

Queensland Government—apprenticeships and traineeships

Construction Skills Queensland
(CSQ) - Construction Pathways

Who is the Queensland Building and Construction Commission (QBCC)?

We are Queensland's building and construction regulator, supporting and enabling a sustainable and resilient industry and protecting lives and livelihoods.

What do we do?

We uphold industry standards and empower everyone involved to make informed decisions to achieve better building and construction outcomes.

How do we do it?

We do this in a variety of ways, from education to dispute resolution and offering a safety net, like our home warranty insurance scheme. We ensure those who work in the industry are compliant and accountable, so that those who interact with them are protected. Visit the QBCC website to find out more information about who we are and what we do.

